

WOMEN IN THE BOARDROOM™

WOMEN IN THE BOARDROOM'S

ANTIRACIST RESOURCE GUIDE

Women in the Boardroom's Antiracist Resource Guide

A few weeks ago, we reached out to the WIB community, vowing to share information and resources on how to be antiracist. Below, you'll find our guide to help you to be actively involved in the BLM movement in your professional and personal lives. We will continue to commit to using our platform to share resources, educate, and inform our audience. This list will be updated and distributed periodically.

Women in the Boardroom is an organization that works to advance diversity for all women. We stand in solidarity with the Black community. Please take time to read through and share the following resources. #BlackLivesMatter

Publications:

Is Your Company Actually Fighting Racism, or Just Talking About It?

The 10 Commitments Companies Must Make to Advance Racial Justice

Being a True White Ally Against Racism

Confronting Systemic Racism Starts from the Top

Hear Me: Stories from Black Executives

6 ways to be antiracist, because being 'not racist' isn't enough

Reading List:

How To Be An Antiracist – Ibram X. Kendi

White Fragility – Robin Diangelo

So You Want To Talk About Race – Ijeoma Oluo

The New Jim Crow – Michelle Alexander

White Tears – Hari Kunzru

Stamped From The Beginning - Kendi, Ibram X.

The Color of Law – Richard Rothstein

Research Outlets and

Black Lives Matter

NAACP

Equal Justice Center

Policing Equity

Donate and Sign

Color of Change—Sign a Petition to End Violent Policing Against Black People

Nationwide Bail Fund

Black Lives Matter

Center for Policing Equity

Movement For Black Lives

We Are Done Dying

National Action Against Police Brutality

Mutual Aid

My Block My Hood My City